“CICSE Lectures on Growth and Development” will be delivered by internationally renowned scholars working on economic growth or economic development. Extended versions of the lectures will be published by Cambridge University Press in a dedicated Series.

In our days many scholars tend to concentrate their own products in the form of articles in top journals. The “CICSE Lectures on Growth and Development” is planned to provide invited scholars with the opportunity to recollect and reorganize their ideas, to present them in a more general format, to provide proofs of special cases or some empirical studies that in short presentations like that of an article of a journal cannot be exhaustively treated, and to provide deeper analyses of some points.
